Last Month Speaker

Dan Potts and Rick Antonson

Rick Antonson, President and CEO of Tourism Vancouver, provided an informative and entertaining presentation. Along with providing numerous facts supporting the importance of tourism to Vancouver and British Columbia, Rick presented two inspirational videos commemorating the success of the 2010 Winter Olympic Games. It was great fun to relive the exciting moments of this historic event, revel with the screaming fans at the hockey games, and to view again the elegant opening and closing ceremonies.

Rick was introduced by Ed Strom, a member of our club who has served as a volunteer with Tourism Vancouver for over ten years. Ed is one of more than 250 very essential volunteers that work with Tourism Vancouver to provide hospitality, information and assistance to Vancouver visitors.

With over 1,000 members and 60 staff Tourism Vancouver works to promote the tourism industry in Vancouver which annually serves over 8 million visitors who spend $3.5 – $4 billion per year.

Rick acknowledged that Vancouver's success is only possible because of the great attractions of outdoor BC. Tourists come to ski, snowboard, hike, canoe and visit the many natural attractions. As part of their trip they will spend a few days in Vancouver.

The new convention center is also contributing to the growth in visitors to Vancouver. Prior to the center, the annual average number of convention visitors was 90,000. This year it is expected that the number attending conventions will reach 220,000.

Tourism is always dependent on international developments. Currency values and international political issues will impact tourism. With the achievement of approved destination status in China, for example, visits from that country are expected to increase by 22 percent.

In the question and answer period Antonson expressed support for retaining the HST as is. He noted that the restaurant business in Vancouver is up 4% since the introduction of the HST and “It would be a calamity to try and unwind it now.”

President Dan Pott's Notes

Membership

The Probus Club of North Shore Vancouver is a victim of its own success in attracting members. The most common complaint we hear about our meetings at Capilano Golf and Country Club is that the crowd is too big in the coffee room or I can't hear because there is so much noise from the conversation. With a membership now at 368, we often fill up the meeting venue to its capacity. As a result, the Management Committee has imposed a moratorium on admission of new members. We will continue accepting applications and the new applicants will be placed on a waiting list. It is unlikely that we will be adding new members until late Fall 2011, at which point we will know the number of renewing members and the room for new members.

What should our maximum membership number be? The Management Committee has adopted the view, at least to date, that we will limit membership when meeting attendance reaches the capacity of the Capilano Golf and Country Club meeting room. Perhaps different criteria should apply. If you have any suggestions please send your comments to danpotts@shaw.ca.

The Newsletter

Linda Metcalfe advised the Management Committee several months ago that she would like to be relieved of her volunteer responsibilities for our newsletter, website, member data base, etc effective in September of 2011. After further discussions, the MC offered Linda the opportunity to continue as our newsletter publisher etc. with a monthly retainer of $200. She accepted. I would like to thank Linda for her several years of volunteer service to The Probus Club of North Shore Vancouver and also express my delight that she has agreed to continue to serve our club. It is of great relief to know that these responsibilities will continue to be taken care of in a very professional manner.
